

SATURDAY EVENING, JAN. 27 1900

Some American sympathizers with the Yaquis have been shot by the Mexicans. But as yet the administration has not threatened to interfere on behalf of the Yaquis and to annex Mexico. Imperialism has changed the whole policy of the government of the United States. That policy formerly was to take the part of all people who were struggling for independence, and the country was even forced into war with a friendly pation to help the Cubane but now the Samoans, the Hawaiians, the Porto Ricans, the Filipinos, and even the Cubans themselves, must surrender their liberty and become subjects of this government. And the imperialistic feeling is so strong with the administration that it even favors Great Britain, in the war she is making against the liberty-seeking white people of South Africa.

THE administration evidently hank ers after the policy pursued by General Ewing in Missouri and General Sheridan in Virginia during the war between the States, as it is considering the advisability of ordering General Otis to treat all the Filipino soldiers as bandits and hang them as soon as caught. And this, too, though the American soldiers captured by the Fil nos, who have returned to Manila, say they were treated as kindly as was pos sible while they were prisoners. "Benevolent assimilation" is a curious thing.

FREE TRADE being a cardina principle of democratic faith, all democrats must support such trade with Porto Rico, even though it would create a strong competitor for Southern products. But every real democrat must also support free trade with all the other acquired provinces, and, as the next best thing to free trade, reciprocity treaties with foreign nations. The republicans, though in favor of imperialism, are opposed to free trade with the new provinces. But consistency is as nothing to them.

THE Virginia legislature yesterday, instead of adopting, referred to a committee, a resolution of sympathy for the Boers; and yet in the Revolutionary war Virginians fought for identically the same principle the Boers are now fighing for, and none thought harder of ed to extend to them her sympathy during the war between the States. But Virginians of the present, are not like those of former ages.

MR. BOURKE COCKRAN, of New York, who abandoned his party to help his old enemy, Mr. Cleveland, has now deserted his late allies and come back to the democrate, because they are ofposed to imperialism and are in favor of home rule and sympathize with the Boers in the determined fight they are making for home rule and liberty. He is now in favor of Mr. Bryan, as are all other democrats who desire the success of their party.

England's Anxiety and Suspense.

London, Jan. 27.-Twenty-four hours have elapsed since General Buller's meagre dispatch announcing that General Warren had to abandon Spion Kop was given out, at the war office, and nothing further concerning this reverse has materialized. As a result, England is plunged again into anxiety and suspense. So acute is the tension that business is only half heartedly attended to. On the stock market trading is practically at a standstill so intense is the creze for war news. According to a rumor which has been current since early morning, the war office has received news of an unpleasant character. supplementary to Buller's last dispatch, but is holding it back. All the newspapers suggest that more bad news can be expected from Butler and again counsel the British public to prepare to pear itself bravely in adversity. It is argued that the Boers are in stronger orce at Colenso than was b-lieved and that there is serious danger of a sur prise attack on Buller's rear. The fightng north of the Tugela which has been going on since Saturday last has been costly to Buller, his casualties as officially reported being over 700 men. This is exclusive of the losses at Spion Kop. There is a rumor that these losses aggregate from 1,500 to 2,000 men. It this proves true, Buller is seriously weakened.

London, Jan. 21.—The war office has posted a notice calling attention to the fact that Wednesday's casualties reported by General Buller yesterday were confined to Lyttieton's brigade. As Lyttleton is operating with Buller at Potgieters Drift, the notice points out that Warren's casualties at Spion Kop on Wednesday are still unknown. was tacily understood yesterday that Buller's casualty list referred to the fighting at Spion Kop. The above not ce incresses the general anxiety oncerning Warren and destroys the belief that perhaps the worst of his losses had been made known by Buller yesterday. It is now feared that the losses at at Spion Kop were very heavy.

The Situation in Natal.

Pretoria, Jan. 25 .- (Deleyed) .- The Boers have surprised a party of Bethune's cavalry on the upper Tugela, killing twenty of the British and capturing fifteen.

here on apparently good authority, that Mafeking was relieved Tuesday.

Pretoria, Jan. 23 — (Delayed).—A dispatch from the Boer camp on the upper Tugela says that the British today are rying to force the Spion kop route to Ladysmith with 40 000 men. The firng of the British has been terrific but the only Boer casualties are several horses wounded. The Boers fired only few shots in response to the Britis fusilade. A bullet from a sharpnel shell yesterday dropped in General Bothas's pucket. Rensberg, Jan. 25 .- (Delayed) -Gen. French made a successful reconnissance today at Colesberg driving away several parties of the enemy, which were harrasing his outposts. French's loss was 2 men killed and five wounded. London, Jan. 27 .- It is reported that Gen. Buller's forces are in full retreat.

Foreign News.

London, Jan. 27.—A telegram from Berlin says that the German papers have an alleged Pretoria dispatch to the effect that General Warren was enticed to Spion Kop by the Boers who then fell upon him, forcing him to abandon seventeen of his cannon. Buller can save himself, says the report, only by a hasty retreat across the Tug-

Portsmouth, Eng., 27.—The new Japanese battleship Shikshima sailed for home today on hurry orders sent as a result of the new developments in China. The Shikshima has an unusually heavy armament and will have to lighten in order to pass the Suez canal. This flour, Mr. Choate is further informed, will be confinated. Apparent ly this latest development will reopen the whole contraband question. Rome, Jan. 27 .- The Russian government has definitely refused to allow the establishment of a papal internuccio-ship at Sr. Petersburg, and thus one of the cherished rebemes of Pope Leo fails. Mousignor Tarnassi, who was charged with the diplomatic negotianuncioship at St. Petersburg, has returned to Rome. It is understood he will go as papal nuncio to Buenos Ayres.

It was decided by both parties this should be a test vote to decide the political standing of the House, the Senate having & Sons, Druggists. ing of the House, the Senate having already proved itself democratic. Five democrats voted with the republicans and one republican was absent.

Goebel democrats were jubilant and applauded the announcement of the result. A smile played over Goebel's countenance as he heard the news in his room. Republicans said that the vo e just taken means blood. The Goebel democratic organization is holding firm and there is now no doubt that Goebel will be seated just as soon as they can carry their programme. Taylor has made no public statemen in the matter, but it is said he will refuse to sian Senator elect Blackburn's commission The assembly now stands; Democrats, 86; rerublicans, 52.

Lynched by a Mob.

Canon City, Col., Jan. 27.-Thomas

Reynolds, one of the four convicts who escaped from the penitentiary Monday night, after murdering Captain Rooney, was captured at Florence, last night by a posse, and brought back to Canon City. The party reached the penitentiary about 10 o'clock and was about to turn Reynolds over to the warden who turn Reynolds over to the warden, when a mob appeared, took Reynolds away from the officers, dragged him to a near by telephone pole and strung him un. He died game, begging, however, that the mob shoot rather than hang him. The mob after banging him shot his body full of holes. A rumor reached Denver this morning that Waggoner, the other murderer of Captain Rooney had been captured and lynched. Al-tone Wood and Kid Wallace, who were captured Thursday, are safe within the
